BACKGROUND INFORMATION

In this final module, through documentation and role play, participants observe the end result of the collaborative efforts of the MDT by observing a Child Advocacy Center Case Review session. Participants review updated reports from MDT members summarizing the findings of interviews and the collection of evidence leading to an arrest, charges, and a legal disposition in the case.

SIMULATION

LOCATION: Child Advocacy Center

Volunteers playing roles of available characters (see above) have received profiles with character specific information about the scenario and their character's potential reactions. However, they do not have any information about the other characters.

- The Forensic Interviewer initiates the Case Review by welcoming everyone and stating the case under review (Sammi Green). They invite the MDT to report out the steps they took and the final closure (if any) of their role with the family. They invite first the CPS Investigator to share, then other roles in the order they collaborated in the investigation.
- Once engaged, other characters may engage already "activated" characters or they may initiate engagement with other available characters as deemed appropriate.
